The Interface between Dentistry and Surgery

1. Cleft Care
2. Aesthetics and Facial Disfigurement

We would aim to split the lecture into 2 main components if possible. In the first part we will deliver an overview of Multidisciplinary Cleft Care; and how this is delivered in the United Kingdom. In particular, the dental care for these patients and the specific roles for the dental team will be covered. In the second part we would take a broader look at the issue of facial aesthetic dissatisfaction. The psychology and management of these issues will be addressed.

Dr John Jeffrey Downie is a consultant Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeon/ Facial Plastic Surgeon. He is also Honorary Senior Lecturer at Glasgow University.

Dr Downie graduated from the University of Edinburgh in 1991 with distinctions in Bachelor of Dental Surgery. Following that, he obtained a Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery at the University of Dundee in 1997. He has also been awarded Fellowships in Surgery from the Royal College of Surgeons London, Royal College of Surgeons Edinburgh and Royal College of Surgeons Glasgow in 2000, 2005 and 2007 respectively. In addition, he has received many distinction awards in areas such as Anatomy, Prosthetics and Radiology.

His special interests lie in facial aesthetic and reconstructive surgery and he is currently one of two lead clinicians, who are developing a national program for facial transplantation also known as composite tissue allografting. In his private practice his interests include all aspect of oral-facial surgery especially rhytidectomy (face lifts), facial rejuvenation and the use of fillers and botulinum toxins to name a few.

Dr Downie is a member of a variety of organisations including the British Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons and the European Academy of Facial Plastic Surgeons. He is widely published and has presented in many international meetings as well as involved in the creation and facilitation of many training courses.

Rouse Signature Lectures Presents:

Sleep Prosthodontics: Not the Same Old Sleep Dentistry Course

Dr. Jeff Rouse

San Diego Jan 8-10

San Antonio April 16-18

Chicago Oct 1-3

Charlotte, NC Oct 22-24

Sleep Prosthodontics is the study of the airway and its impact on the stomatognathic system. The impact of breathing that disturbed sleep is seen in daily dental practice: bruxism, erosion, myalgia, and malocclusion. This differs from a traditional Sleep Dentistry course that focuses on the oral appliance and its' impact on the airway. Dr Rouse will introduce participants to a new vision for dentistry and the amazing role it can play in improving the health and sleep of our patients: Maintain then Resolve. CPAP and oral appliances to achieve a healthier airway. Use the maintenance clues to then attempt to resolve the patients problem and eliminate the appliance. Hands-on screening, nasal breathing and oral appliance projects will be conducted during the three-days. Finally, a focus on fixing the 4 year-old child for a lifetime will be highlighted.

Attendees will be able to:

- 1. Understand why management of the airway is key to medical and dental health*
- 2. List dental co-morbidities elicited from poor sleep breathing and possible solutions*
- 3. Explain the importance nasal breathing, fabricate a provisional oral appliance and recognize the patients autonomic reactivity*
- 4. Determine the ideal oral appliance for different patient types*
