Transitional Bonding

Dr. Corky Willhite

Learn a practical technique using composite that offers many advantages over traditional composite or porcelain restorations. Patients—including those that need extensive changes for function and esthetics—love conservative treatment, whether for financial reasons or just because they don't want their teeth "drilled down." Requiring virtually no prep even for smile makeovers and full mouth rehabilitation cases, long-lasting results can be expected. This course is very different than other resin courses. It is NOT about how to layer the resins, tints and opaques but covers additional information that will help any doctor master their Composite Bonding skills.

Learning objectives:

- Why porcelain is not always the best option
- Step-by-step technique for "little or no prep" composite restorations
- Restoring anterior guidance—even in severe wear cases—so it lasts for years
- A method of opening Vertical Dimension that is conservative, practical, and effective
- Verbal skills that will gain patient interest and increase patient acceptance
- How to avoid the most common mistake with composite bonding.

About the speaker:

Corky Willhite, DDS has achieved Fellowship by the Academy of General Dentistry, the American College of Dentists and the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry. He is one of only 60 Accredited Fellows in the AACD of over 6,000 members worldwide. He has served on their Board of Governors (currently the American Board of Cosmetic Dentistry) and spent years as an Examiner for Accreditation. He is an Adjunct Assistant Clinical Professor in the Department of Comprehensive Dentistry and Biomaterials at L.S.U. School of Dentistry. He is also on the faculty of the Center for Esthetic Excellence in Chicago. He has been published and feels honored to have so many opportunities to lecture nationally and internationally. Over the years, his private practice in suburban New Orleans, The Smile Design Center, has become limited to Cosmetic Dentistry. His experience is based on a dedication to the belief that "excellence" and "esthetics" are not only compatible, but can take dentistry to a new level of satisfaction and success.
