Jamie Clarke

Psychological Cross-Training for
High-Performance Teams

In this informative and entertaining session, you will be enthralled by Jamie Clarke's behind-the-scenes connection to the Washington Capitals Cup-winning season will have your audience on the edge of their seats.

By turns hilarious and heartbreaking, Jamie recounts how his experience of success and failure on the world's highest peaks helped stars like Alex Ovechkin break their Stanley Cup curse.

Jamie will be incorporating the best of his speaking topics on the Adventure of Business, Above All Else and The Empty Quarter. He will be relating his experiences to the dental industry and how it relates to your dental team's performance.

In the Adventure of Business, he will be discussing the passion that drives an adventurer is akin to that of a business leader. With his trademark spirit and high energy, Clarke excites audiences as he draws parallels between the dynamic environments found in the office and in nature. In Above All Else, he will share with humour and palpable emotion by challenging audiences to think differently about success, failure, hard work and fear, as he shares insights from his journeys, adventures and explorations to and through the world's most dangerous places.
